

Dear

Did you know that humus is a human right? Despite the fact that humans need humus to grow food, human induced soil degradation is happening every day and on a global level. About 80% of the world's agricultural land suffers moderate to severe soil erosion. Most of our activities have an effect on humus. What are you doing to protect and promote the right to humus?

Please go to www.rihumi.org for more information on the right to humus

Dear

Did you know that humus is a human right? Despite the fact that humans need humus to grow food, human induced soil degradation is happening every day and on a global level. About 80% of the world's agricultural land suffers moderate to severe soil erosion. Most of our activities have an effect on humus. What are you doing to protect and promote the right to humus?

Please go to www.rihumi.org for more information on the right to humus

Dear

Did you know that humus is a human right? Despite the fact that humans need humus to grow food, human induced soil degradation is happening every day and on a global level. About 80% of the world's agricultural land suffers moderate to severe soil erosion. Most of our activities have an effect on humus. What are you doing to protect and promote the right to humus?

Please go to www.rihumi.org for more information on the right to humus

Dear

Did you know that humus is a human right? Despite the fact that humans need humus to grow food, human induced soil degradation is happening every day and on a global level. About 80% of the world's agricultural land suffers moderate to severe soil erosion. Most of our activities have an effect on humus. What are you doing to protect and promote the right to humus?

Please go to www.rihumi.org for more information on the right to humus

